

The Evidence of Brokenness

Brokenness is evident when you no longer react with your previous flesh patterns when the following rights are challenged:

- Your right to possessions.
- Your right to a good reputation.
- Your right to have acceptance.
- Your right to be successful.
- Your right to have pleasant circumstances.
- Your right to presume on the will of God.
- Your right to life itself.
- Your right to beauty or strength.
- Your right to have friends.
- Your right to be heard.
- Your right to take offense.
- Your right to avoid reaping from what you sow.
- Your right to be right.
- Your right to see results.
- Your right to be loved by others.
- Your right _____
- Your right _____

You may wish as an alternative to use following list which is evidence of brokenness:
All of my rights have been surrendered.

- I am willing to be out of control.
- I am not believing in or living by feeling or old patterns, but by Christ within.
- I am obedient out of a love motive because I want to, not because I have to.
- I am not performing for God but I am letting Christ perform in and through me.
- I am willing to fail.
- I am willing to be weak.
- I have a sense of total inadequacy in self-strength (2 Corinthians 3:5)
- I have a sense of adequacy in Christ through His strength (Philippians 4:13; 2 Corinthians 3:6)
- I recognize God's power in my weakness (2 Corinthians 12:9, 10).
- I am depending upon Christ to meet my basic inner needs: acceptance, meaning and purpose, identity, power over sin, strength and victory.
- I am trusting God, whatever happens, and resting in Him even with external turmoil.
- I am seeking Christ Himself more than His benefits.
- I am forgiving of all (Ephesians 4:32).
- I am willing to be rejected.
- I am transparent and willing to share failures.
- I am vulnerable and willing to share failures.
- There is a readiness to let others receive the credit.
- There is genuine humility.
- I am placing value upon those who have little or no value to myself.
- There is a readiness to affirm (build up) others.
- I am teachable.
- I am willing to be misunderstood.
- I am willing to be broken again.

Strength of Weakness in Your Life

2 Corinthians 12:10 "Therefore I am well content with weaknesses, with insults, with distresses, with persecutions, with difficulties, for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then I am strong."

Please make a list of the areas in your life that fit under each column.

Weakness (Inner and outer.)	Insults (Someone intentionally trying to shame you.)	Distresses (Pressured by legitimate obligations.)	Persecutions (Someone trying to or being persuaded to do something w/the intent to persecute you.)	Difficulties (Cramped by something that restricts your actions.)

Suggested Prayer: "Abba, If these things can be used by You to bring me into, or keep me in dependence upon You, I am willing to be content with these things.

I choose to believe that I am not a slave to these things. I believe because you are sovereign and You have given me the promise of Romans 8:29-29, that these things are from You and that through my own weakness You will reveal Your strength."
